December, 2018 Report

Contribution hours: hours

Note:

This report is to be used for both the purpose of reporting to the ULSU but also Co-op so this document may contain a lot more reflection to fulfill my requirement for Co-op. This is used as a learning tool to explore the role to see where improvements can be made and also to improve my work ethic as a whole for my future career.

Ender Bender

So this is an event to which I think needs a bit of a makeover. I loved my time being emcee for this event but I think the attendance would be a lot better if a few things were changed. First, while I love the name (I'm a sucker for rhyming names) I don't think it accurately conveys the low energy of the newfound reindeer games. I think Ender Bender should be dropped down to just Reindeer Games. Another thing that we tried which I think stressed me out needlessly was the RSVP we had on the event and the team requirements. If I've learned anything from this year, it's that students won't RSVP and will likely not show even if they do. Take this event get around ~20-30 items priced between $5-$25 (bonus points if you write hints on the packages) and just go through the games with volunteers from the crowd. Regardless of the criticism of the event I have here in this report, many of the students that approached me after the event had very positive things to say about this event and had wishes to see it grow and to be better advertised. Personally, I love this event so so much so I'm happy to see it grow the way it does.

Pronghorn Cheering Challenge

So given the nature of this month, I spent a great time during this month talking with the U-Cup committee about the expectations and how to grow this into a bigger event. Since most of the discussion was held so late in the month I had hoped I would do this as soon as the new year hit.

Challenge (How Challenging this Position has been to this Point) 9/10 –

Given the restriction placed on myself with the RSVP requirement for Ender Bender I found myself doing everything last minute which was less than ideal. I also found that this burnt me out as I took it upon myself to handle all the logistics of the GA Holiday Party as well.

Skill Development (How My Skills Developed up to this Point) 5/10 –

Given my involvement in the December events in previous years I found there was very little to develop skill wise in this month.

Interest (My Interest in the Position) 6/10 –

With the break so quickly approaching I found my interest waning in the last month of the year. I tried to keep engaged as much as possible but I struggled.

Relevance (The Relevance to my Program/Major) 3/10 –

Definitely hard to say with the relevance to my degree.... I'm sure there's something in there that relates to psychology....
