

Attendance:

1. GFC (General Faculties Council): I attended December's GFC as a non-voting member because I was curious about the information and discussion regarding the proposed new sports dome. This meeting led me to have conversations with other SU members about the timing, practicality, and student opinion regarding the project. We hope to gather more student feedback regarding this project.

Internal:

1. December General Assembly (GA): I was unable to attend this online, emergency meeting, but I read the agenda and was aware of the contents being voted on.

Other:

1. Legislative Review Committee (LRC): Although no meeting of the committee took place this month, I spent some hours working through the bylaws I was assigned to review. The most significant question I had during this round of review pertained to Bylaw 1: "Any active member of the ULSU shall have equal opportunity to access and participate in all services and events provided by the ULSU." My concern is that certain race or ethnicity-specific events hosted by the ULSU, such as the BIPOC student art showcase, either violate this bylaw, or are named trivially, depending on what the ULSU would do in the case that a non-BIPOC student applied to the event. I hope to discuss this further at the next meeting of LRC.
