July, 2020

Summary

- Committees
- Student Services
Webinar (Online Programming)
- Grade Appeals
- Bingo!
- Garage Sale Prep/Transition

Committees

While committee meetings have almost stalled to a halt, I have transitioned my focus to preparing myself for the many meetings I will be in for the fall.

Student Services Webinar (Online Programming)

I've been planning a live online series aimed to educate ULeth students on the services available to them in a less official and robotic way. The series will debut on the ULSU online programming for August and will continue into the fall.

Grade Appeals

Grade appeals have slowed significantly, but still take my first priority.

Bingo!

ULSU online Bingo continues to highlight my work week! Although engagement is high throughout the week, I would ideally like to find out what I can do as a host to increase the quality of the show for listeners, ultimately producing a better product for students.

Garage Sale Prep/Transition

Most of the full time ULSU staff and EC got together at our office to sort the belongings left behind at residence. The items will be sold in the garage sale. While in the office, I was able to pick up the transition documents that weren't available to me until now, so I have been pouring over them since.
